THE HOTEL EMMA

136 E GRAYSON ST SAN ANTONIO

844-845-7384 | WEBSITE

LESS THAN 30 MINUTES FROM THE TPC COURSE

The Hotel Emma is a 146 room, unconventional hotel. Industrial artifacts from the restoration of the building are respectfully and sometimes whimsically incorporated into graciously designed spaces. Formerly the Pearl Brewing Company the building was reopened in 2015 as Hotel Emma.

It sits on the San Antonio Riverwalk and is a most unique facility. For instance, a suite's ceiling is the bottom of a cast-iron hopper, an early 20th-century compressor has been retired to the lobby, and solid bronze industrial gadgets are repurposed as lighting fixtures. The hotel offers a 3,700-volume library in one of the Brewhouse's vaulted rooms. The brewery's tangible history has taken on a new life.
